INJUNCTION GRANTED TO MRS. ASQUITH

LONDON GLOBE IS RESTRAINED FROM PUBLISHING ALLEGED ARTICLES ABOUT THE ASQUITH FAMILY.

London, Dec. 21.—The chancery court today granted to Mrs. Herbert Asquith, wife of the premier, an injunction against the London Globe, restraining that newspaper from the publication of alleged libelous articles.

Among other things, the paper charged that she was disloyal and a traitor.

STREET STORIES

An Overland and a Ford collided at the corner of West Main and D St. last night, but with little damage to the cars. The cars were damaged, but the driver was injured.

Clara C. Kimball of Oklahoma City will move her family to Ardmore the first of the year and be with the real estate firm of Mullin & Mullin. Mr. Kimball formerly resided in this city.

The two dancing classes conducted by Phil Barker in this city, one at the Elks and the other at the Knights of Pythias club are progressing nicely, with increased interest and membership at every session.

A. C. Treadwell, a prominent attorney of Oklahoma City is here today in district court in connection with the case in which S. M. Jordan is plaintiff and the International Oil & Gas Company is the defendant.

H. H. Poole of Paduca Valley was in the city today and stated that the recent rains were most beneficial to the wheat crop. The average in wheat has been greatly increased in that locality this year.

C. H. Eckers, formerly in the drug business at Springer has said out there and moved his family to this city. He will open an insurance and real estate office as soon as he can secure a proper location.

The city council will meet in regular session tonight for the transaction of routine business. The mayor and commissioners have ordered that all city employees be paid off to date, that they may have Christmas money to spend.

Tomorrow night the senior class of the Ardmore high school will entertain the alumni. Thursday afternoon an offering will be taken in all the schools of the city, for the poor, and the proceeds turned over to the benevolent society.

After the first day of January it will be well to oil up the old gun and hang it up, grease the hunting boots and put the hunting tags in moth balls for a long time. The season closes on most all desirable game on that date.

The woods are already full of candidates for the two county commissioners, to succeed the two who will quit the board after their present term expires and all heard from, so far, are from the rural districts. There is a well defined movement on foot among the business men of Ardmore to see if they cannot at least have one of the commissioners from this city, if not two, in view of the amount of taxes the city pays.

All union barber shops in Ardmore will be closed all day Saturday—Christmas day. All will remain open until 10:30 Friday night.

Attention Odd Fellows. Regular meeting of Ardmore lodge No. 4, I. O. O. F. will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Elks' hall. Work in the second degree.

OPEN AIR SCHOOLS AND RED CROSS SEALS.

Institutions Where Children Are Taught and Taught at Same Time.

"Say, teacher, how did a fellow get his letter put in this open air school?" This was a greeting from one of the teachers at the Elizabeth McCormick Open Air School in Chicago the other day by a puny little fellow who had been enjoying the sick-kid's post time they were having at studying, working, sleeping and playing all in the open air.

Open air schools to the number of nearly 500 are now maintained all over the United States. Some of them this winter in the northern states will hold sessions when the weather is down to zero or below. Others will enjoy the balmy winds of Southern California, Arizona or Alabama.

In the open air school movement Red Cross seals have played and are still playing an important part. The seal money, through the Anti-Tuberculosis societies, has been the means for experimenting and convincing the hard-headed school boards of the wisdom of the plan and also for providing food, clothing and special nursing care which the public funds could not furnish. Red Cross seals are among the children's truest friends.

In a Scotch Heaven.

Early in the last century an old Forfarshire aristocrat installed in the bedroom corridor of her castle an automatic organ. It was her delight of a morning to wake her guests with its strains. But it was not the delight of one of them, Miss Sophia Johnstone of Hilton, to be so awakened, and she said so. "Ye dinna like the music? Ye shouldna say that, Sophy," said her hostess. "Ye'll no' win to heaven an' ye dinna take pleasure in music; it's to be all music there, ye know." "Deed," said the incorrigible one, "an' heaven's a place w' auld wives playin' on hand organs at six o'clock in the mornin' it's no' the place I tak' it for; nor yet the place I want to be in."

AT THE THEATRES

"His Wife" at Majestic.

Majestic Film Corporation presents Masterpieces, "His Wife" featuring the Broadway favorite, Geraldine O'Brien at the Majestic today. It is a story of two brothers, one of whom, in trying to secretly protect the wife of the other, arouses the jealousy of his own wife, who, in a series of suspicious situations, loses her reason and wanders away from home. After several years, her sanity restored, the wife returns and finds her husband spending at her grave. Realizing that he had believed her dead and that her suspicions were unfounded, her love for her husband comes back and the two are reunited.

Act Scores Hit at Palace.

Loose Bros., the musical act which opened a four-days engagement at the Palace Sunday, have a number that is entertaining and entirely different from anything shown in Ardmore in a long time. One particular feature that was noticeable was the double playing of both, that is, each one played two different kinds of instruments at once. Another thing was the old tin cans and bottles that were made to sound very pretty with the skillful manipulation of these two young men. Taken all in all, it is a good act, and one that everyone will enjoy. They will be here for two days longer, so if you have the opportunity, go and see them.

Wednesday, the beautiful, lovable Clara Kimball Young, the girl who acts with her eyes, will be here in her latest success, "Trilby". Miss Young is supported by Wilton Lackaye, and appears to splendid advantage in the role assigned her in this great favorite.

WILL DELAY SETTLEMENT OF LUSITANIA

RECENT WITHDRAWAL OF BOYED AND VON PAPPEN, AND AMERICAN DEMANDS IN ANCONA CASE EXCUSE FOR DELAY.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21. Full settlement of the Lusitania case recently was near, but because of the withdrawal of Boyed and von Pappen, and the American demands on Austria in the Ancona case, the Berlin officials have decided that a settlement satisfactory to the United States would not now meet popular German approval, according to reliable information received here.

Children Are Hungry For Music

SCIENTISTS tell us that among the numerous compartments of a child's brain, there is one that has been assigned to music. This part of the brain, like its other divisions, requires careful cultivating if the child's mind is to be fully developed.

If you have children in your home, a good piano or player piano should be there also. We would like to sell you a fine high-grade piano because we know that you will always be satisfied with it, and because its superb quality will insure the most rapid development of the child's musical taste.

Now is the time—you can buy for cash or on convenient payments.

BOOTLEGGER GANG GUILTY SAYS JURY

CREEKMORE, WEALTHY LIQUOR DEALER, AND OTHERS, FOUND GUILTY—SENTENCED THE EXTREME PENALTY.

Oklahoma City, Dec. 20.—William J. Creekmore of Joplin, Mo., "king of the bootleggers," whose alleged extensive wholesale liquor law violations have baffled the Oklahoma authorities for years, was convicted of conspiracy to violate the state's prohibitory law in the county court Monday evening. With him were convicted Henry Tiedeman and M. A. Cahn, both of Oklahoma, alleged employees and associates of the man who is said to have made himself almost a millionaire by defying the law of the land.

The jury imposed the extreme penalty of the law in the case of each of the convicted conspirators—a year in the county jail and a fine of $500.

The three were permitted to remain at large under their old bonds, which will hold good until Wednesday. Then new bonds for appeal, fixed by the court, must be provided.

The trial began December 16. The jury returned its verdict shortly after 8 o'clock, about four hours after County Attorney John Embury delivered the closing argument for the state. The verdict for each of the defendants reads as follows:

"We, the jury, find the defendant guilty as charged in the information and assess the punishment at the extreme penalty, $500 fine and one year in the county jail."

Judge William H. Zwiek announced that he would not impose sentence upon the three men until Wednesday, December 22 at 8 a. m. Until that time, he said, the defendants would be required to furnish a new bond. Each of them was under $1,000 bond to appear for trial. Those bonds will be in force until the sentence is formally pronounced.

Judge Zwiek Wednesday also will fix the appeal bonds for each of the defendants.

WOULD SHUT OFF ALL LIQUOR FROM OIL FIELD

U. S. COMMISSIONER MAKES WHOLESALE HAUL OF RUNNERS—RINGLING CHIEF OF POLICE ARRESTED.

Chickasha, Okla., Dec. 20.—Arrest and arraignment here of Chief of Police Charles King of Ringling, now held under a bond of $1,500 to appear in the United States district court, is another denunciation in the activity of the federal and state governments in breaking up the illicit traffic in liquor in Oklahoma. King's arrest followed that of several other persons said to form a well organized band that has been running liquor into Oklahoma, particularly the Headton oil fields, from Wichita Falls, Texas. A chauffeur who figured in the transportation part of the game told the officers that King was the man who financed the whiskey running. The cases will come before the federal court at Fort Worth in March. King entered a denial of his guilt.

Most of the arrests were made from warrants as issued by George W. Mitchell, United States commissioner for the northern district of Texas, were for Charles King, chief of police of Ringling, Okla.; Ben Humphrey, Volna E. Sayer, Walter Wright, Frank Newcomb and E. Doughty, all of Oklahoma, and Dan Hardy, wholesale liquor dealer of Wichita Falls, Texas. The warrant charges conspiracy to commit an offense against the laws of the United States by introducing liquor into that part of Oklahoma known as the old Indian Territory and was placed for service in the hands of Deputies J. O. Peters of McAlester, W. A. Worley of Duncan, W. R. Hight and Dow Brazier of Ardmore.
